

You will need at least a distributed deployment of an on prem installation of Splunk for this book, collecting both Linux and Windows information, and a heavy forwarder as well. We will use all of these pieces to show you techniques to add value.